

Contents of the Journal of the David Collection, vol. 2, 2005

VOLUME 2.1

KJELD VON FOLSACH

Foreword

AVINOAM SHALEM

Introduction

RALPH PINDER-WILSON

Ivory Working in the Umayyad and Abbasid Periods

AVINOAM SHALEM

Trade in and the Availability of Ivory: The Picture Given by the Medieval Sources

ANTHONY CUTLER

Ivory Working in Umayyad Córdoba: Techniques and Implications

ROBERT HILLENBRAND

The Syrian Connection: Archaic Elements in Spanish Umayyad Ivories

SHEILA S. BLAIR

What the Inscriptions Tell Us: Text and Message on the Ivories from al-Andalus

CHRISTIAN EWERT

Architectural Décor on the Ivories of Muslim Spain – “Dwarf” Architecture in al-Andalus

KJELD VON FOLSACH

A Recently Acquired Cordovan Ivory Casket in the David Collection

CLAUS-PETER HAASE

Volume, Flatness, and Abstraction – Remarks on the Style of the David Collection Casket

FRANCISCO PRADO-VILAR

Enclosed in Ivory: The Miseducation of al-Mughira

OLIVER WATSON

The Doha Box

SOPHIE MAKARIOU

A New Group of Spanish Ivory Pen Boxes?

VOLUME 2.2

FERNANDO VALDÉS

The Ivories of al-Andalus (10th-11th century). Some Thoughts on Arts and Crafts in the Caliphate of Córdoba and the Taifa Kingdoms

JONATHAN M. BLOOM

Ivory and Wood: The Minbar from the Kutubiyya Mosque in Marrakesh and the Ivories from Córdoba

STEFANO CARBONI

Cylindrical Ivory Boxes with Openwork Decoration: Mamluk, Nasrid, or Something Else?

ANNA CONTADINI

Fatimid Ivories Within a Mediterranean Culture

MARIAM ROSSER-OWEN

Questions of Authenticity: The Imitation Ivories of Francisco Pallás y Puig (1859-1926)

JENS KRÖGER

Ernst Kühnel and Scholarship on Islamic Ivories up to 1971

CATALOGUE

366 pages in two parts, 181 figures and 44 plates, 270 x 216 mm, cloth.
ISBN 87-88464-25-3 / ISSN 1603-5313.

Price (vol. 2.1 + 2.2): Dkr. 400.

Copies of The Journal of the David Collection can be ordered from: :

The David Collection
Kronprinsessegade 30-32
DK -1306 Copenhagen K
Denmark

Email: museum@davidmus.dk

Website: www.davidmus.dk